Dr. Blakeslee, Professor of History that of the nation's welfare, not that arrived here by the Siberia and has remained over to make some studies and observations here. While he is making a tour of the world, his principal purpose is a study of the American possessions in their relation to current history, as a concrete part of the subject of history, and for the light it may throw on the history which is being made each day.

Dr. Blakeslee spent considerable time in the Philippines, going pretty thoroughly over the group. He was there for a considerable time before Secretary Taft arrived, and he remained there for some time after the Philippine Assembly began its work. Of the Legislative Assembly, he says that the members more fully repre-sent the better classes and the betthing so entirely peculiar in the rela-tions between this little commonwealth miles in width, and from two to four thousand feet in height, with their opposite sides precipitous, and cut only by narrow and easily defended passes.
